

March 12, 2020

Currently, no one in Lampasas County is being monitored, quarantined, or has been diagnosed with the coronavirus/COVID-19.

As a reminder, the City of Lampasas follows the guidelines and recommendations set forth by the Texas Department of State Health Services and the CDC.

Since the public visits several city and county facilities (Senior Center, Public Library, Animal Shelter, City Hall, etc.) the City respectfully requests anyone who has recently visited the countries with widespread, sustained transmission, or come in contact with those who have, to not patronize these facilities for 14 days after their return. Furthermore, if they have recently visited these countries, they should self-quarantine at their home for 14 days, according to the CDC recommendations.

At this time, the City of Lampasas does not have plans to close facilities or cancel events. However, the situation could change as the coronavirus situation evolves in the State of Texas. Currently, there is not community-spread (spreading easily and sustainably in the community) of the coronavirus in the State of the Texas. Right now, all Texas COVID-19 cases are travel-related or close family members of travel-related cases.

The City of Lampasas Emergency Management Office has been, and will continue to be, in communication with the Texas Department of Health and Human Services and the Governor's Division of Emergency Management.